are badly required there. Now that the resumption of the Worked line, has been completed, Mr Hiriyannaiya may make place for another officer.

In this connection I would suggest that the Asst. Secy, Railways who can easily undertake a little more work, may be entrusted with the work of the Traffic Board, and the Stores Purchase Secy given some other additional work connected with the Industries Dept. There would thus be an equitable distribution of work among the Secretariat under and asst. Secretaries & Govt.

If my suggestion is approved, I would recommend that the Rs asst Secys place may be reserved as an additional Gazetted post available to the Superintendents of the G & R. Sects. Mr. C. G. Ramaiya, an able and Experienced Supdt. could then be posted to the charge mentioned above.

The Government Order fixing the present strength of the Civil Service and Non-Civil Service cadres in the General and Revenue Secretariat is put up herewith. Accordingly, 3 of the gazetted posts are now held by officers promoted from the subordinate staff of the Secretariat, 5 by the Civil Service, and 2 by members of the Judicial Service.

It may, however, be stated that the proposal now under advertence does not involve the taking away of any post reserved for the Civil Service. The appointment of Assistant Secretary for Railways is outside the Civil Service cadre and was prior to Mr. N. S. Hirannayya, held by an officer of the Public Works Department. At present, Assistant Commissioners have been spared for several posts outside the cadre and difficulty is experienced in finding experienced officers for important charges in the regular cadre. In view of this, the Revenue Commissioner has requested the withdrawal of Mr. Hirannayya to the general line. As there is a competant officer readily available in the subordinate service of the General and Revenue Secretariat who, I think, may be expected to do equally well for the post, I recommend that Mr. C. G. Ramaiya may be selected for appointment as Assistant Secretary for Railways, which is not a Civil Service post.
